

ALUMNI AND YOUNG-ADULTS CONFERENCE

Relationships, Sexuality, and the Christian Tradition

July 14–16, 2011

What is marriage for?

How does it fit into my life?

What is dating?

What does the Christian tradition have to say about dating and marriage?

What is chastity? Why do relationships and sexuality seem so complicated?

Come to Augustine College to discuss and think about these questions with our faculty, alumni, and guests.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

The Augustine College Alumni and Young-Adults
Conference begins Thursday evening, July 14, with check-in and snacks at 6:30 pm. The

CONTRIBUTORS

Maxime Allard, OP

President of Dominican College, Ottawa, where
Fr. Maxime teaches philosophy and theology.
His interests and research are focused on Thomas Aquinas, 17th-C rationalism, hermeneutics, 'postmodern' philosophy of religion, and political philosophy.

The Reverend Doug Hayman

Fr. Hayman teaches Reading the Scriptures at Augustine College. An ordained minister since 1986, he has ministered in parishes throughout Canada, spoken at conferences and retreats, and shared the Gospel through preaching, teaching, music, and drama. He currently serves as priest and pastor at St. Barnabas Apostle and Martyr in Johnstown, Ontario.

Dr. Edith Humphrey

The William F. Orr Professor of New Testament at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. A former Dean of Augustine College, where Dr. Humphrey taught Reading the Scriptures. Her interests include rhetorical and literary studies, biblical theology, ecclesiology, and current issues in the Church, including human sexuality and worship.

Dr. John Patrick

President of Augustine College, where he teaches Science, Medicine, and Faith. After a career of extensive research in the treatment of childhood nutritional deficiency, teaching at the University of Ottawa, he now speaks about science, faith, medicine, and culture around the world.

Dr. Edward Tingley

Professor-in-Residence at Augustine College, where he teaches philosophy, art, and the Trivium Seminar.
His participation in the conference may be in video-essay form.

Rebecca Visser

After years working with the Challenge Team, a non-profit organization committed to promoting chastity as a viable life-style choice for young people, Rebecca Visser (working with her husband Harold) is involved in catechetical training at her parish and the raising of six children.
